

Plymouth Rock Center of Music and Drama

Duxbury Clipper

DUXBURY, MASS., THURSDAY, JANUARY 12, 1956

Attention, All Lovers of Music

By KATHIE FRANCKIE

An exciting evening is in prospect for the Friends of the Plymouth Rock Center of Music and Drama.

In answer to popular demand, an extra meeting not previously scheduled will be held at 8 p.m. on Friday, Jan. 20, at the Loring Rd. home of Mr. and Mrs. David Blair McClosky.

Five artists will present a reading in English of Leoncavallo's "Pagliacci" in its entirety. Since this opera is tentatively scheduled for next summer's season at The Center, this preview of the groundwork for a major production should be of special interest.

Old Friends

Most of these artists are familiar to summer audiences at The Center: Maria Taormina, who delighted the Friends at the last meeting, will sing the soprano part; William Anderson, who sang all the major tenor leads in last summer's productions, will take one tenor part, while the other will be sung by Joseph Scott, recently released from the Army and now studying for his Master's degree at Boston University; Blair McClosky, Director of Plymouth Rock Center, will sing one baritone role—Richard Christopher, the other. Last summer Christopher had leading roles in "La Boheme" and "Don Giovanni," and sang leads in the "Mikado," "Aida" and "The Medium."

Kenneth Mantzer will be accompanist.

You are cordially invited to become a member of the Friends.
